WHERE WE ARE TODAY

The Peninsula Conflict Resolution Center

For almost 40 years, the Peninsula Conflict Resolution Center (PCRC) has encouraged the collective strengths of individuals, families and organizations to help improve communication, community engagement and conflict resolution throughout San Mateo County.

PCRC originated as a small group of concerned residents who wanted to help their neighbors resolve disputes. Since then, our organization has grown to serve thousands of residents across the county, each year.

PCRC partners with the community to reduce violence, increase civic engagement, and strengthen community resilience through collaborative and innovative processes.

We envision a world in which people advance equity, practice empathy, and understand each other's differences.
