ORDER

Based upon the application of Applied Survey Research (ASR), the approval of the IRB regarding the procedures which will be utilized during the data collection and client interviews, and good cause appearing the court hereby permits ASR and its agents to interview clients of the child welfare system on the following conditions:

- 1 ASR must follow the procedures and protocols they have presented to the court.
2. ASR will ensure that no information will be released or published which would identify any of the clients interviewed.
3. ASR will show this court the proposed text for publication before it is released to the public so that this court can be assured that this court order is being followed.
